

ENGINEERING

RARCO Engineering specialises in supplying category C and D firearms, magazines, parts and accessories to professional shooters all over Australia.

Since 2012 we have imported hundreds of semi-automatic rifles, shotguns, and other restricted imports for feral animal controllers.

But even with our knowledge and experience, negotiating import and export regulations is always a challenge.

That's why we're excited to offer the full range of Wedgetail Industries products – 100% made in Australia and backed by full parts support and a lifetime warranty.

Wedgetail Industries are adding new products all the time. Soon they will offer the full range of rifles and accessories that professionals rely on.
